The Second Coming of Christ

Revelation 19:11-16

Throughout both the Old and New Testament, Scriptures teach a literal, physical (bodily), and visible (cf. Rev. 1:7; Dan. 7:13; Matt. 24:30; Zech. 12:10, 11), return of Christ to this earth to establish His kingdom and rule for a thousand years. The greatest theme of all Bible prophecy is the Second Coming of Christ. This was the theme of mankind's first prophecy (Jude 14, 15), and of the last message of the Bible (Rev. 22:20). While certain events and experiences may occur in the lives of individuals, these are of course not the ultimate return of Christ. The term Second Coming should be reserved for His final revelation at the end of the age. In anticipation of the Second Coming, Christians should live soberly, righteously, and godly (Titus 2:12, 1 John 3:2, 3).

The white horse is not that of Rev. 6:2. In this passage, the True Messiah returns in victorious conquest. He is Faithful to His Word and Promises. He will fulfill the twofold roles of Judge and Warrior. His judgment of the earth will be totally righteous (cf. Rev. 16:5-7; Rev. 19:2; Ps 96:13). The fire, (cf. Rev. 1:13-16), symbolizes glory and judgment. The crowns indicate total sovereignty and authority (not like Rev. 12:3; 13:1). The secret name expresses the mystery and greatness of the person of Christ (cf. Rev. 2: 17; 3: 12; 19:13, 16; Phil. 2:9-11). The blood represents the judgment of Christ's enemies (cf. Rev. 14:14-20; Isa. 63:1-6). The name, Word of God, presents Christ as the revelation of God Himself (cf. John 1:1, 14; 1 John 1:1). In His first advent, Jesus especially revealed the love and grace of God (cf. John 1:17; Rom. 5:8; 1 John 3:1; Isa. 61:1-2, Luke 4:18-19). But in His second advent, He will reveal the holiness, justice, and judgment of God (cf. Heb. 4:12; Isa. 61:2).

The armies: (1) angels (cf. Matt. 25:31; Matt. 26:53); (2) the raptured Church (Zech. 14:4-5; Rev. 19:8); (3) Old Testament saints (cf. Dan. 12:1-2, Jude 14-15); and Tribulation saints (cf. Rev. 7:13-14; Heb. 12:22-24): they will share in Christ's victory and glory (cf. Rom. 8:18-19). The linen symbolizes righteousness (cf. Rev. 19:8). The sword from His mouth depicts judgment through His spoken word (cf. Rev. 1:16; 2:12, 16; Isa. 11:4; 2 Thess. 2:8). Smite the nations: Christ will destroy all unbelievers (cf. Rev. 19:21; Matt. 25:41, 46; 2 Thess. 1:8-9). Rod of iron: Christ will subject all nations to Himself, and destroy all His enemies (cf. Ps. 2:8-9; 1 Cor. 15:24-25). Winepress: Words relating to wrath and anger (cf. Rev. 14:17-20). KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS: Christ has universal sovereignty. He is King over all who call themselves kings, and Lord over all who call themselves lords (cf. Rev. 17:14; Deut. 10:17; Dan. 2:47; 1 Tim. 6:15).
